

Kel- Crete products: magical formulas of proprietary blends of organic compounds. These products define the workability of modern cementitious rendering. Kel- Crete singlehandedly extends the open time, tensile strength, and bonding capacity of mortars, creating a natural, reinforced organic matrix that is nearly immune to typical portland shortcomings. No other single product on the market performs all its functions simultaneously, and using 4 separate products like increased lime ratios, fumed silica and other synthetic additives creates a chemistry that fights against its own existence... Kel- Prime is another magic product derived from organic compounds, with so many uses its impossible to list them all. Kel- Crete is a small family run business, and supporting them is supporting individual sovereignty and the right of pursuant happiness in America.
